7. Appendix A – User Manual

7.1 Featured Page

Featured Page is the home environment of the CerebroApp. Here you can check new featured items, browse categories, find suggested books based on search history. Hitting history button takes you to Search History page. Hitting search button takes you to search page. Hitting Top charts will reveal the list of most popular searches that have been other Cerebro Users. Camera Button will take you to the scanning page.
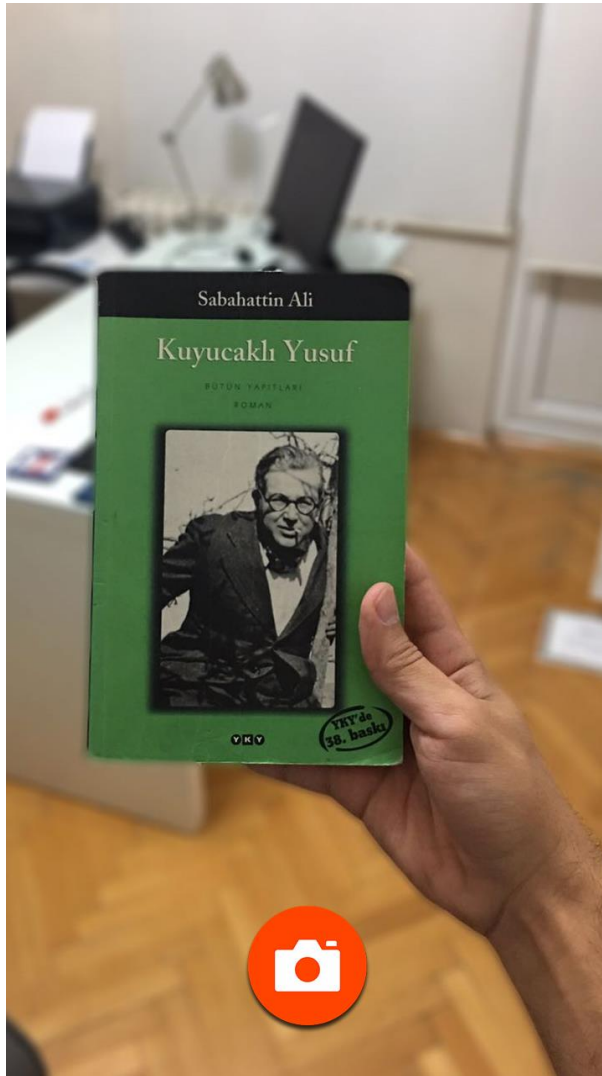

7.2 Search Page

You can search an author or a media name from the search tab. When you make a search on Cerebro; you can find the author name, publish date, cover art and the rate of the media. You can re-search again with search tab. Simply click the search area and enter the name of the media and hit okey. All the relevant information will be searched and displayed.
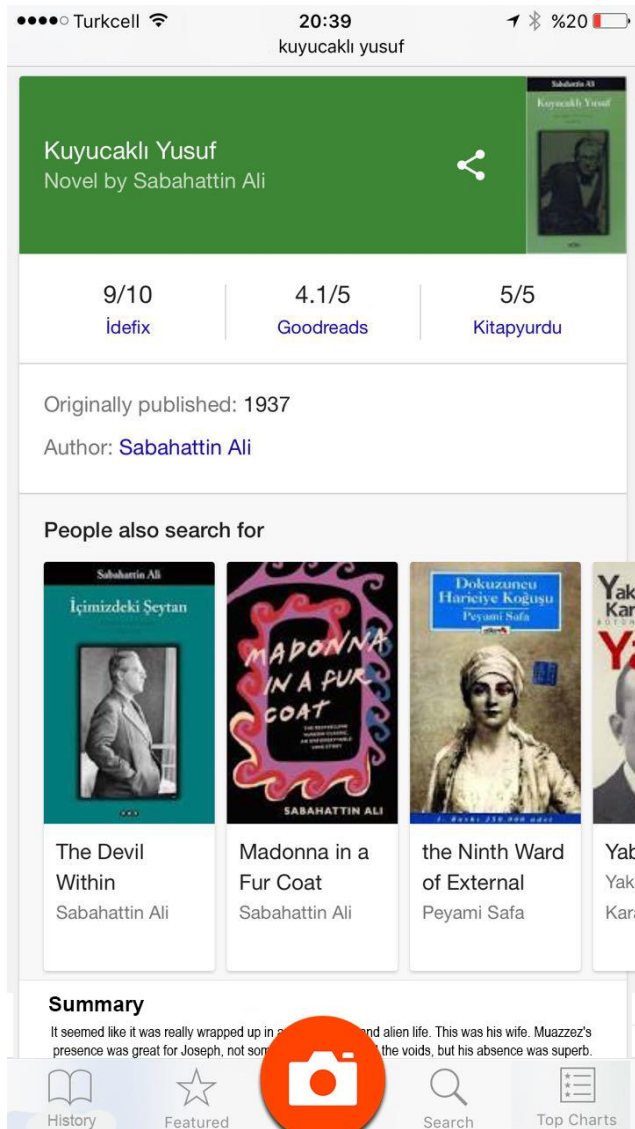

7.3 Top Charts Page

Hitting the Top Charts button will take you to the top charts list. Here you can explore the latest most popular medias. Simply click one to get more information about them.

7.4 Scanning Page

Scanning Page is where you can scan a physical media through the camera of your mobile device. In the Scanning page simply hold the media to the camera at a lightly lit environment. Wait until the camera focuses on the media automaticaly and then push the camera button to scan the image. Cerebro will automaticaly scan the media and find the related search results and take you to the information page.

7.5 Information Page

After the media is scanned, Cerebro will take you to the information page. Here you can find detailed information found on the internet such as links to the summaries, teasers, info about stores that you can find the media and so on. The result page can be configured from settings so that you can set up widgets based on your favor.